Comments:

- More power outlets would be nice. Generally well run and organised.
- Although it was good exposure, the demographic doesn't really fit our school.
- Glad to be a part of it.
- Well organised, great location.
- Variation de la promo, plus de promotion.
- Great.
- Create bingo card for students for greater interaction (Not as many people as last year)
- Set up was good. Tables were ready.
- Fantastic Work!
- Lots of secondary students-which is awesome! But maybe more promo for public and Yukon College. Organisers were awesome
- As always the expo was great. Coffee is always a nice bonus. We appreciate the space and opportunity to be here.
- Everything was good.
- We had a lot of visitors, and also found it beneficial to network with other booth reps.
- The day after Halloween mean that I had to travel on Halloween-perhaps scheduling before or after next year would be good? Also not very many younger students interested in High school.
- Great event- Thank You.

- Promotion of the expo to high schools was excellent. More effort to engage general public would improve attendance
- Only improvements would be power available and more promotion
- We realise we could use more space, but that is what we learned
- When in community some organisations didn't hear about it
- Previous years we had more people attending the event
- Expo was well organized, I think my particular booth may have not been visited often due to the age of those who attended
- A great day – really pushing the event. Volunteer to want to do check points! Busy Day
- Excellent show.
- Time of day does not allow for employed people to attend. Seemed to be solely school focused (high school). Did not see a lot of advertising in the public eye.
- With more prolific advertising, perhaps we would have more of a range of demographics attending rather than mostly high school students.
- I like having a booth at this Career Expo because I am able to meet other organisations and find out more about them
- Very well done! I know some of the local schools have exams this week so I'm wondering if there would be better time and if the event was pushed one week?
- The expo was very well organised. Space was excellent, coffee and snacks a great idea. Location excellent. I'm just not aware of where or how it was promoted.

Do you have any suggestions for the next Education, Career and Volunteer Expo:

- Have event earlier than Halloween, and open it up to grade 9 students
- More external advertising
- Please have on a different week than student exams
- Localisation excellente, Bonne ambiance. Varier le public cible et ouvrir apres heures de bureau si le public est adulte
- All good- not sure where it is advertised other than in schools. Plenty of eager students but would be good to see a wider cross section of people.
- I suggest changing the time from 10:30am to 3pm to noon to 5pm for people to come on their lunch breaks and after school.
- More general people engagement
- None at all. Keep up the good work!
- Most vendors are educational. More actual companies offering work experience possibilities would be beneficial to the mix.
- Different date, perhaps pre-Halloween. Include grade 9 students.
- Pitch for each participant
- Try to reach out to more community members

- Could not be any better, I think I loved it!
- Need an actual Job Fair. If looking for volunteers at NGO's or change in careers/jobs, it doesn't allow employed people to attend.
- Perhaps in the future, encourage companies attending to promote the event themselves. Perhaps rebrand the event to something flashier and with a logo. Invite the First Nations next time and companies in the community (e.g Teslin-Tlingit would have wanted to come)
- I would say trying to bring more adults than teenagers since most stands (except Universities) are there for them.
- Internet was not working properly
- More private enterprise should be here. Maybe designated time to students than public.
- Have more businesses that are hiring – McDonalds, Superstore, Etc. (approach them and ask them to come)
- This could be lack of knowledge from my office in regard to this event, I expected more traffic
